Fashion fan or fashion slave?, based on BBC Learning English – News About Britain

Every year London Fashion Week attracts fashion designers and the press from all over the world. Outrageous designs, original fabrics, and beautiful slim models are shown on the catwalk in an atmosphere of extravagant elegance. However, how much of this gets translated into street fashion? From time to time we all want to look fabulous in our clothes. After all, first impressions count. How can we do this without becoming a fashion slave? We are bombarded with magazines that present us the new fashions for each season, and usually make women look foolish. Our bodies all come in different shapes and sizes, so most of the designers' projects simply do not fit ordinary women. It is best to ignore catwalk trends and develop our own shopping strategy.
